ECO CHEMICAL EXPANDS TEMPLINE DISTRIBUTORS

TempLine Athletic Field Marking Systems announces the appointment of distributors in key Midwest, Mid-Atlantic, and Southeast U.S. Markets

Seattle, WA – June 20, 2014 – TempLine Athletic Field Marking Systems recently announced the formation of product distribution and customer service agreements with Autrey Supply Co. in Jay, Florida; Chesapeake Valley Seed in Savage, Maryland, and Kromer Co. in Plymouth, Minnesota. Eco Chemical will begin distributing their complete line of TempLine turf marking paints, removers, and conditioners through each of these locations. Eco Chemical will also be working with each organization to ensure comprehensive local service and technical support capability for TempLine customers.

“Since 2002, we have been delivering product and technical service from our single location in Seattle, WA. Growing demand from our markets in the east has made it necessary for us to pursue an expanded distribution and service model,” said Jeff Fisher, Business Division Manager for TempLine Athletic Field Marking Systems. “We have been exceptionally fortunate to find enthusiastic service partners with strong customer relationships, technical expertise, and knowledge of their markets to work with us in this undertaking,” added Fisher.

About Eco Chemical TempLine

TempLine is a division of Eco Chemical Inc., an “Eco-centric” technology company committed to manufacturing only non-toxic, water-based products since its inception in 1991. TempLine Turf Marking Systems provide water-based conditioners, paints, removers, and removal equipment for marking synthetic and natural grass athletic fields. TempLine serves the needs of professional football and soccer teams, universities, municipalities, and other athletic venues across North America.

About the Distributors

With facilities in both Alabama and Florida, Autrey Supply Co. has been providing athletic field paints and technical guidance to Southeastern markets since 1989.

“Working with TempLine allows us to offer expanded service and a broader selection of quality turf paints and removers to current and new customers,” said Mark Autrey, President of Autrey Supply.

Chesapeake Valley Seed has over 30 years of experience in the turf cultivation and management industry, serving hundreds of customers in the Mid-Atlantic Region.

“We look forward to offering to our customers the expanded service represented by TempLine products and technical expertise,” said John Straughn, President of Chesapeake. “We are also excited about the shared passion for service that TempLine brings to the working partnership.”

Kromer Co. LLC is a well-known supplier of high quality turf maintenance equipment, serving the athletic field management market in North America since 1989.

“We are very enthusiastic about the opportunity to offer our customers a line of products like TempLine, that meet the quality standards our customers have come to expect from Kromer, ” said Ronn Ponnath, President of Kromer Co.
